My husband cracks up reading this!By CustomerWith the economy being what it is, I decided to get this for my hubby to show him that his work isn't as bad as he thinks, and it could be worse. He absolutely loves it, and reads excerpts to family and friends (everyone laughs). I am extremely satisfied and would recommend to a friend. It will make you appreciate your not-as-crappy job.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Contents seem funny--great reading--greatBy Jean WalserContents seem funny--great reading--great

Guaranteed to make you grateful for the job you have and thankful for the one you don't. From Saddam Hussein Double to Telemarketing Script Writer to the guy who operates the "It's a Small World After All" ride, satirist Justin Racz has spanned the globe to find fifty jobs worse than yours, so we can all feel better about our own. Featuring fifty color photos of the awful, the pitiful, the hysterical jobs out there, and all their undesirable employment details, Fifty Jobs Worse Than Yours is the perfect gift for anyone stuck in a nine-to-five grind who needs to remember why it could be a whole, whole lot worse. Justin Racz is a copywriter for BBDO New York. His parody J.Crewd was published by Doubleday in 1998. "I've held a number of these jobs, so I speak from experience when I say Justin Racz has turned a painful and extremely depressing subject into high humor. I just wish I'd thought of this book first." - Tom Connor, co-author of Martha Stuart's Better Than You At Entertaining

About the AuthorJustin Racz is an advertising copywriter. His first book, J.Crewd, was published in 1998. He lives in New York City.
