Fake Review Written By Author's Agent By Michael Clear A Billion Jokes by Peter Serafinowicz is the kind of book that should easily be enjoyed by anyone who doesn't hate laughter or joy. If you do hate those things, 50 Shades of Grey is also sold my and you should look that up now. A Billion Jokes isn't quite a billion, of course, but there are quite a few and most of them are quite good. Since it also says, "Volume One," then Peter Serafinowicz should be able to wrap this up in another two volumes or so. Mr. Serafinowicz combines his funny text with old time look graphics to give it at least a bit of the feel of a joke book from the turn of the century. Yes, back in 2001, all joke books looked like this and A Billion Jokes makes us all remember that simpler time when George Bush was considered to be a great speaker and iPods were thicker than sirloin steaks. My favorite joke is probably a letter saying, "Dear Sir/Madam, your gender reassignment surgery was a mixed success." That's the only joke I will reveal. I do recommend A Billion Jokes if only so you can rip them off and tell your friends and family that you made them up. For that alone, it would be worth the price. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. basically a twitter feed By Thursday The lines were amusing but it read like a decent twitter feed of a good comic. I couldn't read it as a book back to back like that. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Highly Amusing. Great for a quick laugh during short periods of nothing. By Eddie H. Peter had already established himself to me as a funny comedian, which was an incentive for me to get this. Very funny book, kind of like a collection of newspaper style cartoons with humorous captions. The only thing preventing me from giving this a 5-Star rating is the fact that it's quite short.

From the bizarre to the downright hilarious, Peter Serafinowicz is, quite simply, one of Britain's finest comic talents I'm still angry at my parents for not buying me expensive rollerblades. Cheapskates. How did I manage to glue my mouth shut? My lips are sealed . . . "Float like an octopus, sting like a clock." —Muhammad Dali I hope numbers
