

[Mobile book] A Brand-New Day With Mouse And Mole (Turtleback School Library Binding Edition)
(Green Light Readers: Level 3)

A Brand-New Day With Mouse And Mole (Turtleback School Library Binding Edition) (Green Light Readers: Level 3)

Wong Herbert Yee

DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

Download

Read Online

#5092364 in Books Turtleback 2012-04-03Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 .40 x 5.70 x 8.80l, .50
Binding: Library Binding48 pages | File size: 22.Mb

Wong Herbert Yee : A Brand-New Day With Mouse And Mole (Turtleback School Library Binding Edition) (Green Light Readers: Level 3) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Brand-New Day With Mouse And Mole (Turtleback School Library Binding Edition) (Green Light Readers: Level 3):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I appreciate that characters treat each other with kindness and that the books avoid using words like "stupid," "dumb." By ABandCMouse and Mole are a cute early reader series that I read aloud to my toddler. I appreciate that characters treat each other with kindness and that the books avoid using words like "stupid," "dumb," "shut up," etc. (Of course kids will learn these words, I'd just rather it not be from books I introduce to them.) As the parent of a toddler who is in a phase where he is easily frightened, I also appreciate that the books are not scary. I rated the books 4 stars only because they are not the most engaging books. We read them frequently, but they're not usually the first books my toddler reaches for. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. My group of advanced first grade readers loved it! By Beth Hadley My group of advanced first grade readers loved it!!! And particularly since they got to keep it. They loved reading a series of books with the same characters. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Transition to Chapter Books By Christine B. Nice beginning chapter books that my 3 year old enjoys.

FOR USE IN SCHOOLS AND LIBRARIES ONLY. The latest paperback installment of Mouse And Mole is now a Green Light Reader. At Level 3, it's a perfect choice for budding readers to jump into early chapter books and read all by themselves. Kids will delight in seeing how a change in attitude and a supportive friend turn Mole's very bad morning into a terrific, brand-new day.

From School Library Journal Grade 1–2—Mole is having a bad day—all of his clothes have embarrassing moth holes. He and Mouse decide to go shopping, first stopping for a quick lunch. Beginning readers will be amused and disgusted by Mole's favorite meal, a big serving of lightly fried worms. Finding new duds is challenging because Mole really prefers his old comfortable clothes. Then he finds a shirt he likes and fixes its missing buttons by sewing on acorn caps for a creative solution. In other stories, the two friends go fishing and make a surprising catch, and Mouse surprises Mole with her fix for his moth-eaten garments. With more challenging vocabulary than Arnold Lobel's "Frog and Toad" series (HarperCollins), this third book about these two pals is best suited for newly independent readers who are ready to tackle words like "double," "squeaked," and "shoed." But words like "abracadabra" and "cashier" may cause them to stumble. The stories are light, with simple plots, and the lively and expressive watercolor illustrations add energy and detail. A worthwhile addition to easy-reader collections.—Mary Hazelton, Elementary Schools in Warren Waldoboro, ME Copyright © Reed Business Information, a division of Reed Elsevier Inc. All rights reserved. Gr 1-2 Mole is having a bad day—all of his clothes have embarrassing moth holes. He and Mouse decide to go shopping, first stopping for a quick lunch. Beginning readers will be amused and disgusted by Mole's favorite meal, a big serving of lightly fried worms. Finding new duds is challenging because Mole really prefers his old comfortable clothes. Then he finds a shirt he likes and fixes its missing buttons by sewing on acorn caps for a creative solution. In other stories, the two friends go fishing and make a surprising catch, and Mouse surprises Mole with her fix for his moth-eaten garments. With more challenging vocabulary than Arnold Lobel's "Frog and Toad" series (HarperCollins), this third book about these two pals is best suited for newly independent readers who are ready to tackle words like "double," "squeaked," and "shoed." But words like "abracadabra" and "cashier" may cause them to stumble. The stories are light, with simple plots, and the lively and expressive watercolor illustrations add energy and detail. A worthwhile addition to easy-reader collections.—Mary Hazelton, Elementary Schools in Warren Waldoboro, ME (School Library Journal) About the Author Wong Herbert Yee lives in Michigan, where he writes and illustrates books for children including the Mouse and Mole series and the Fireman Small series. For a complete list of books by Wong Herbert Yee, visit www.houghtonmifflinbooks.com. For more information about Wong, visit his Web site at <http://hometown.aol.com/wongherbertyee/>