Deborah Elum : A Church with Spots and Wrinkles before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Church with Spots and Wrinkles:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Let's take a good look at our selves !!By PaulaThis book, was one that the Lord used to give me a good spanking with. But at the same time with fun and laughter. It is a book that has a universal tool but, one main key. To take off the pants that you have no business wearing. (or skirt) Being out of the divine order structure that God has set up for his kingdom, can cause a whole entire church to operate in confusion, hatred, gossiping etc. But allow the spiritual head be just that. (THE spiritual head.)

Your tickle box will turn over as you let the Sunnydale Community Church family take you to a whole new level in the spiritual experience. When Pastor Johnson is caught between his love for the church and his love for his wife. Unfortunately, there is no stopping Sister Johnson and anyone who gets in her way will pay the cost. The deacons determine that she is out of control and are determined to end her reign. This church family is a mess and what they are up to is guaranteed to bring non-stop laughter if you stop by for a visit. You will laugh as you let the members of Sunnydale show you how interesting the church can really be.

From the Publisher Deborah Elum is a new author who will make a great impact in the literary community. Her new work is inspiring, humorous, and so delightful that you will want to read it again and again. From the Author Dear Readers, A Church with Spots and Wrinkles is a great book. While working on this book, I used my past experiences in the African American church to gather the colorful characters within the book. Each character is a blend of many experiences throughout my life. Many times, I got so tickled that I would have to stop writing and enjoy the moment. It is still a fun and exciting read for me. From the Back Cover A Word from the Members I am Reverend Johnson, the Pastor of Sunnydale Community Church. I want to invite ya'll to attend church this Sunday or you will miss a real treat. See you Sunday and don't forget to bring an offering. We may take up two or three offerings. So, just come prepared. I am Thelma Johnson, Pastor Johnson's wife. For once I wish my husband would read the sermons like I wrote it. I really should be the pastor of Sunnydale Community Church. Then, the saints would hear how a real sermon should be preached. My husband don't believe that a woman is called to preach, but I do. Let's put it to a vote, shall we? I am Millie Martin, an ex-member of Sunnydale Community Church. Whatever you do, don't attend that church. If I wasn't a Christian, I would lay down my religion and let those no-good, lying, backbitting so-called Saints over at Sunnydale have a piece of my mind. I am Deacon Bates. I love my church and the pretty women too. Ain't nothing wrong with looking is there? Deacon Bates, what do you mean you love to look at the women? Wait till I get you home. Oh, hi. I'm Sister Bates. Don't mind my husband. Nothing that a black-eye won't cure. Deacon Thomas is my name and barbeque-eating is my game. Every second Sunday, we have a Barbeque Chicken Dinner Sale at Sunnydale Community Church. Let's pray shall we. Lord, chickens died that we might live. If any bird deserves to be in heaven, it should be the chicken, Lord. The chicken has given its life to build more churches than any other animal. Lord, bless the yard bird. Amen.
