

(Mobile book) A Cynic's Guide to a Rich and Full Life

A Cynic's Guide to a Rich and Full Life

Mario DiGiorgio

*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#1257035 in Books Last Gasp 2011-03-01Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 6.00 x .50 x 4.00l, .60 #File Name: 0867197552160 pages | File size: 67.Mb

Mario DiGiorgio : A Cynic's Guide to a Rich and Full Life before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Cynic's Guide to a Rich and Full Life:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Twisted humor!By Freedom54321Loved 99% of the advice but hated that I could relate to so much twisted humor. I often read it to myself for a good laugh and to release some endorphins. Really funny but not everyone would get the grand humor of A Cynic's Guide to a Rich and Full Life. The title says it all.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Fabulous for cynical grown ups!By Pamela E BradleySurprising little book filled with cynical observations and comments that match my jaded soul. Have gifted this to at least ten others who I thought could handle the message and language.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Gag giftBy Mal 47Good for a gag gift. Do not leave where children can get their hands on it! Some offensive words and concepts.

Tongue-in-cheek advice on how to be more self-centered, cynical, and most importantly, hilariously inappropriate. People say that what you give is what you get. That you need to slow down and soak in life. Stop and smell the bacon. People will also tell you that the essence of joy is found within the appreciation of the little things. Simply put, those people are idiots. Planting a garden will leave you with sore knees and throbbing blisters. Taking the scenic route will make you tardy. Furthermore, you cannot pay your mortgage with the laughter of children. Anyone can hold a door open for a stranger. However, it takes a rare and special breed to trip them in the process. Not surprisingly, the bulk of society frowns on that sort of behavior. So we offer you this black cloud of unconventional wisdom to quell those dark urges; a collection of joyfully inappropriate wishful thinking that would dampen the days of those near and not so dear. So we urge you, hesitant reader, to plant your tongue firmly in cheek and prepare to learn the secrets of living a truly rich and full life. "Dance like nobody's watching. Then apologize to those who were. "Tape record your mother's laughter. Play it at your father's funeral. "Be big enough to admit your mistakes. Then take them all out for happy meals. "To battle the blues, try exercising. Still down? Try cutting yourself. "Every year, send out a dozen Christmas cards. All addressed to your Jewish neighbor. "Ignorance may be bliss, but it's also expensive. You poor, happy idiot. "If something seems too good to be true, it probably is. Check for an Adam's apple. "Find someone who can always be trusted. Then find a unicorn that farts rainbows. "Start a standing ovation at a grade-school play. Stand and boo. "Learn a new card trick! Then show it to your dog. Seriously, no one else cares. "Obey all ten commandments. Nerd. "DiGiorgio's as dry as a martini at the Tanqueray distillery, as caustic as a Drano milkshake, as funny as a banana peel on the floor of the Republican convention." - The Austin Chronicle "For a comic who's still a baby in the business, Mario's got no hacky shit in his act." - Nick Dipaolo, comedian

"DiGiorgio's as dry as a martini at the Tanqueray distillery, as caustic as a Drano milkshake, as funny as a banana peel on the floor of the Republican convention." - The Austin ChronicleAbout the AuthorCelebrated author Mario DiGiorgio travels the country spreading mirth to the great unwashed; resides in Austin and thinks you look fat in those jeans.Excerpt. Reprinted by permission. All rights reserved."Dance like nobody's watching. Then apologize to those who were. "Tape record your mother's laughter. Play it at your father's funeral. "Be big enough to admit your mistakes. Then take them all out for happy meals. "To battle the blues, try exercising. Still down? Try cutting yourself. "Every year, send out a dozen Christmas cards. All addressed to your Jewish neighbor. "Ignorance may be bliss, but it's also expensive. You poor, happy idiot. "If something seems too good to be true, it probably is. Check for an Adam's apple. "Find someone who can always be trusted. Then find a unicorn that farts rainbows. "Start a standing ovation at a grade-school play. Stand and boo. "Learn a new card trick! Then show it to your dog. Seriously, no one else cares. "Obey all ten commandments. Nerd.