"A Dog Walks Into a Bar" contains over 70 pages of jokes and cartoons divided into eight sections. Each section features dogs in all sorts of humorous predicaments including job interviews, dating, stupid pet tricks, and of course outsmarting their humans – or not. There's even a section of salty dog stories that poke fun at life's more embarrassing moments with dogs. No dog joke book would be complete without mocking our feline friends because the cat versus dog game never gets old. More than two dozen full-color cartoon panels by Jason Albrecht add the right amount of madcap amusement, and combined with the compact six-by-seven-inch size make this the perfect gift for all your dog-loving friends. "A Dog Walks Into a Bar" will tickle your canine funny bone. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Dog jokes elicit a few laughs. By Bob Walch If you like dog jokes this collection may work well for you. Not all of the jokes here are really that funny but there are enough to provide a few chuckles and guffaws. The illustrations are good and add to the humor so as a novelty book you might want to consider giving it to that certain person who likes this type of humor. If you really aren't into canine humor though you'll be barking up the wrong tree with this little book so think first and then buy.....

Howl with laughter at dozens of the very best dog jokes ever collected--and made even funnier by the comic color illustrations that enliven every spread. You'll bark with delight at this collection of more than 100 dog jokes by this bestselling author. Accompanied by the colorful zany art of Jeff Albrecht, there's something for every dog lover that captures every facet of canine humor - A Dog Walks Into a Bar, Wonderdogs Underdogs, Good Breeding, Dogs Gone Postal, Doggy Haiku, Man's Best Friend, and more. With its unbeatable subject matter, attractive package, and great price, it makes a terrific gift for all of Fido's fans.
