book! Many interesting anecdotes and also informational. Well done!

Who says actuaries are boring? Actuarial Jokes, Memoirs and Other Minutiae will convince otherwise. Tony has assembled a collection of anecdotes that find the humorous side to being an actuary. No profession may be more grounded in reality than being an actuary. That just makes actuaries fodder for an incredible collection of jokes. The anecdotes take turns being funny, irreverent, angry, thought-provoking and educational. Actuarial science may never be the same.
