Liz Cowley : Outside in my Dressing Gown: And Other Poems for Garden Lovers before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Outside in my Dressing Gown: And Other Poems for Garden Lovers:

Liz has loved gardening ever since she was a child, and is frequently outside in her dressing gown first thing in the morning, "like so many of us who love their gardens." This is her fourth book of humorous verse, but her first on gardens and gardeners and probably the first humorous poetry collection ever about amateur gardeners.

"Poignant, approachable, witty, straight from the heart. Liz strikes that rare balance between being accessible yet challenging at the same time, and should move those who never normally like poetry. I recognize myself in it. I think you will too." Joanna Lumley
About the Author Liz Cowley has had a long career as an advertising copywriter, and has always loved gardening in her spare time. She acted as Creative Advisor to Plant Talk for several years, and has edited two books on gardens: From the Ends of the Earth and This Infant Adventure: Offspring of the Royal Garden at Kew. She is also the author of three books of humorous poetry: And Guess Who He Was With?, A Red Dress, and What Am I Doing Here?
