Joyce L. Karchmar : Party For Two: Ways To Add Love And Laughter To Your Relationship before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Party For Two: Ways To Add Love And Laughter To Your Relationship:

Don't look for a playmate, lover or companion. Be a playmate, lover or companion. How often do we fault our partner because he or she doesn't act the way we want? Why do we place the responsibility on our companion? Why don't we act the way we want others to act? There's a lot to be said about the old adage - treat others as you want them to treat you. Be sexy, playful or funny and you will be treated the same way. You will learn how to show love and make your partner feel special. Make your Honey smile or laugh. You will be pleasantly surprised when your partner makes you smile, laugh and feel special too.
