Barbara Johnson : Plant a Geranium in Your Cranium before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Plant a Geranium in Your Cranium:

Sprinkled throughout are her traditional humorous observations, cartoons, and anecdotes collected along the way. It all helps us to not take ourselves too seriously, even in the midst of a life-threatening illness, as we "let go" and commit ourselves to God's care, confident of ultimate victory whether we live or whether we die. This book is good light reading for someone who may not be feeling well and can only read a page or two at a time, the entries are all short and easily read. This book will almost certainly cheer up someone who is in a hospital bed. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. She loved it. I haven't read this particular book. By Customer I bought this for a friend of mine who is battling cancer. I wanted to give her something to help boost her spirits. She loved it. I haven't read this particular book, but I do love Barbara Johnson. She is great! Very talented. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Comic moments on a difficult road. By Teacher This book helped my mom as she went through chemo treatments. It has short stories from the author's life that provide moments of laughter during a very difficult, not so funny time of life. I have given this to other friends undergoing chemo and it always provides a smile when they read it a little each day.

"I never wanted to be in the cancer survivors club. But, then, I never wanted to be in AARP, either!" Barbara Johnson laughingly lifted millions of readers out of the depths of despair with her book Stick a Geranium in Your Hat and Be Happy. In that classic volume of humor and encouragement, she shared how God's gift of joy helped her survive the deaths of two sons and the eleven-year estrangement of another son who was lost in the homosexual lifestyle. Now that same laughter-lined attitude has sustained Barbara during a life-threatening battle with cancer—a battle in which she never lost her bubble of joy. Plant a Geranium in Your Cranium is the inspiring yet funny story of Barbara's journey through a year of illness, frustration—and abundant humor. It's a joyful chronicle of her own experiences combined with dozens of hilarious anecdotes and cartoons sent to her by others who share her belief in the healing power of laughter.

Broken people need to laugh, and Barbara Johnson's book filled this skeptic with hope and joy. -- News-Gazette, Champaign, IL
