Animals with jobsBy M. StephensIf you like a play on words, animals that work in a human world and have a sense of humour you will love this career book by Will Bullas. His fanciful art, combined with his one liners should put a smile on your face.

Whether you're looking for a career or just a paycheck, set your rTsumT aside and take a moment to acquaint yourself with a few wacky characters who will surely help to fine-tune your job-hunting strategies. Will Bullas's comic line-up of animals that stand in for us humans offers remarkable insight to some familiar, and other rather singular, lines of work. Whether you are a chick with brains. . . or majored in Fridays after five . . . , it takes more than a crackerjack rTsumT and a good suit to find your life's work. A lot of humor goes a long way if you are destined to join the working class . . . even as a cat burglar! Graduates from high school, college, and the school of life will welcome this hilarious and irreverent guide to the future. Will Bullas's wit with pen and paint is guaranteed to "quack" you up!

About the AuthorWill Bullas graduated from the Brooks Institute of Fine Arts. He has four previous books of watercolor "one-liners" published by The Greenwich Workshop Press. He lives near Carmel, California, and is an award-winning signature member of the National and the American Watercolor societies.
