A friend used it as a party item at her wedding reception as a conversation starter/fun thing for people while they took a break from dancing. I bought it to have around the house. Wes Hazard is a sharp writer and endlessly creative thinker.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Fun!By Anonymous soul've had a lot of fun with this book. My co-workers and older children have had some good laughs.1 of 1 people found the following review

Guaranteed to bring out the worst in people! Would you rather attend a funeral while high on laughing gas or go to your own wedding doped up on horse tranquilizers? Which famous figure, living or dead, would be the most terrifying to be tickled by? Which is greater: The number of times you've given money to a panhandler on the street or the number of times you've dropped change on the ground and left it there because you didn't feel like bending over? If you seriously considered these questions, this book is for you. If you didn't, don't worry--you're probably still a terrible person. Use the other 247 questions in this book to find out just how terrible that is. Featured in The Washington Post Style Section!
