I loved the different scenarios that captured the moments with a sense of humor. A well-written book that is hard to put down.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. funny, and easy to readBy Stefanie dornLight, funny, and easy to read! Perfect summer beach book. I liked how the book was divided into shorter sections- it made it easy to pick it up just for a minute and read a quick bit. Crazy that all this stuff happened- shows that truth is funnier than fiction. I would recommend this book to a friend. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Refreshing read!

By Customer I really enjoyed reading this book. There were many times I was laughing and nodding my head remembering my own retail experiences. The light hearted tone, the character descriptions, and the truth resonated with me while reading. Initially I thought the transitions between chapters were a little awkward but after further thought very reflective of a day working in the store! I would have enjoyed the endnotes as footnotes, they were hilarious but distracting while reading on kindle. Overall though, great wit, good writing, and a refreshing read. Thank you!

Rant of a Retailer outlines the true-life adventures of Macy May Marcus, a seasoned department store manager, complete with insane customers, worse employees, and one horrendous boss. This is a non-fiction humor book on the trials and the (mild) triumphs of working in retail. According to The Wall Street Journal, roughly one of every 10 Americans is employed in the retail sector. This means 30 million of you readers will be able to relate to Macy's stories of agonized fitting room explosions and the horrors of the holidays. All stories are 100% true: every crazy, silly, disastrous, bumbling, lunatic story comes straight from the linoleum-covered racetrack of a major big-box retail store. With Chapters like, "Crazy Customers Make It All Worthwhile", "Returns, or Seriously? You're Really Returning This?", or "Loss Prevention, or Don't Steal! (But if You Do, You Won't Get Caught)", plus a bonus chapter on how to actually get what you want from bored, burnt-out, unmotivated retail employees. This is a laugh-out-loud, must-have manual for anyone who works - or shops - retail!

About the Author Macy May Marcus is a many-year veteran of retail at a major big-box retailer. After years of crazy customers and outrageous employees, she has taken to the pen to share her stories of retail drama and comedic adventures. She has been a feature writer for the Write Life magazine, Issue 9, Confessions. This is her first tell-all book. All her stories are absolutely true - the names have been changed to protect the crazy!
