Workman Publishing : Wacky Websites Page-A-Day Calendar 2009 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Wacky Websites Page-A-Day Calendar 2009:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Workman Page-A-Day Wacky Web Sites By Linda Poole Right away I found several web sites that were useful. Some are entertaining, some useful and some downright funny. I'm glad I bought this calendar!

When your boss turns her back, discover a new online escape with just a click of the mouse. Featuring the kookiest, funniest, oddest, geekiest, and most amusing sites out there, Wacky Websites offers a year of utterly addictive (if often pointless) entertainment. Flash back to the elementary school lunchroom with an online museum of lunch boxes (with matching thermoses, of course!). Learn the exciting sport of squirrel fishing. Plus a recipe for real southern moonshine, an Elvis-sighting bulletin board, a dictionary of British teen slang, and TGIF Time Wasters, including Rate My Bunny, a site where you rate the cuteness quotient of bunny rabbits. Okay, maybe you should get back to that spreadsheet now.

From the Back Cover Waste tons of time in 2009 at the kookiest, silliest, strangest, geekiest, and most entertaining sites on the Web. Learn a new dance move every week. Find out how to survive a zombie attack. Plan every detail of your Las Vegas wedding (should you dress your party as "Star Trek" characters? Or go with an Elvis package?). Plus a 3D tour of ancient Rome, rate that tattoo, classic Frogger, cool microwave tricks, and the guy who bartended his way from a paper clip to a house. Okay, back to that spreadsheet now.
