Book sent promptly in great condition.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Very fun read from a great comedianBy Richard LoveMaeve's on stage comedy is quirky and a bit of a slow burn. So, while I'm a huge fan, I know it doesn't work for everyone.Her writing is another thing altogether. Her stage fans will love it, but it's a bit more accessible to people who aren't as tuned into her stage persona. It's a series of stories and anecdotes about the oddball things in life that we all encounter as well as some unique to Maeve which are her at her best. A great, fun read for anyone looking to laugh out loud. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Brilliant

I think Maeve Higgins is one of the funniest, smartest women around. Her t.v. series Fancy Vittles was hilarious, and this book doesn't disappoint. It is laugh-out-loud funny, perceptive and captivating. She is authentically, uniquely entertaining. Highly recommended.

In her hilarious debut, Maeve Higgins smashes the brittle veneer on the creme brûlée of life and hands around spoons, so we can all taste the delicious absurdity that lies beneath. She then promises to stop making terrible food analogies about everything. From terrifying hen nights, malevolent dolphins and angry bakers, to runaway cats, a stalker who won't commit and the curse of over-politeness, Maeve writes with warmth and wit about what it's like to be a regular human girl. We Have a Good Time...Don't We? introduces a strikingly original voice that celebrates the truth of what we really feel about ourselves through these hilarious and perceptive snapshots of life.

'A comedy classic'

About the Author
Maeve studied photography in college and worked in a clothes shop until 2004. Then, one magical March evening, she discovered her dream life as a stand-up comedian. Since then she has written and performed various shows for comedy festivals all around the world. Maeve starred in RTÉ's Naked Camera and went on to make her own comedy series with her sister Lilly called Fancy Vittles, which was a cult hit. She lives in London and writes a weekly column for the Irish Times.
