What Would You Call? (Clean, Humorous Riddles That Can Usually Be Solved With a Pun) is a series of 100 riddles with associated line drawing illustrations. Marie (Mary) Finkhousen did the illustrations and cover. An example of the kind of riddles in the book, taken from the back cover of the book, is: What would you call the large boat in which the person in charge rides? Leaders ship (leadership).

What Would You Call...? is a clever book in concept and the illustrations add immensely to the project.
